

I. Russisch-Deutsches Symposium Notfall- und Katastrophenmedizin

20. und 21. Mai 2010

St. Petersburg, Russland

Version 2.0/23.04.2010

PROGRAMM:

19.05.2010 ca. 19:00 h Welcome -Cocktail at "Hotel Oktober", St. Petersburg, Russia

20.05.2010

09:00 – 10:00

Opening ceremony of the Symposium, Welcome addresses:

Sergey Bagnenko,	Dzhanelidze-Institut for Emergency Medicine
Ludmilla Kostkina,	Vice-Governor of St. Petersburg
Heino Peters,	Department of Internal Affairs, Free and Hanseatic City of Hamburg
Dr. Dr. Timo Ulrichs,	Federal Ministry of Health, Berlin
Peter Schaller,	Consul General of the Federal Republic of Germany

1. Working session: Concepts for handling major disaster events

Moderation: Heinzpeter Moecke, Hamburg

10:00 – 10:45

Facit of major disaster events in Russia in 2009

Sergey Bagnenko, St. Petersburg

10:45 – 11:30

Major disaster handling in St. Petersburg

Alexey Boikov, St. Petersburg

11:30 – 12:15

Preparation on Major International Events by the Security Authorities

Examples: FIFA Football Worlds Championship 2006 and 2010

Manfred Kanzler, Hamburg

12:15 – 13:00

Air Rescue in Germany – Organization, financing and medical services

Susanne Matzke-Ahl, Munich

Organization of the psychological service of the Russian Ministry for Catastrophe Protection

Julia Shoigu, Moscow

13:00 – 14:00

Lunchbreak

15:00 - 17:00

Site visit to the Emergency Control Center of St. Petersburg

20:00

Get together and evening dinner

Stand:

I. Russisch-Deutsches Symposium Notfall- und Katastrophenmedizin

20. und 21. Mai 2010
St. Petersburg, Russland
Version 2.0/23.04.2010

21.05.2010

2. Working session: Provision and medical care of heavily burned individuals

Moderation: Sergey Bagnenko

09:00 – 09:30

Heavily burned and catastrophe medicine

A. Aleksev Vischnevskiy, St. Petersburg

09:30 – 10:00

Coordination tasks of the Control Center – Countrywide placement of beds for burned individuals

Heino Peters, Hamburg

10:00 – 10:30

Clearance of consequences of a catastrophe at the prehospital stage

E. Kamkin, Perm

10:30 – 11:00

Emergency and rescue management during the burning of the Night Club in Perm

Oleg Fedotkin, Perm

11:00 – 11:30

Coffeebreak

11:30 – 12:00

Medical care for patients/victims of train catastrophe events

S. Makarov, Moscow

12:0 – 12:30

Clearance of the site regarding the terror attack against the
"Nevskij Express"

Alexander Fisun, Moscow

12:30 – 13:00

The Emergency Concept of the Deutsche Bahn AG in train accidents

Klaus-Jürgen Bieger, Frankfurt

13:00 – 13:30

What was the learning effect for the German Emergency and Rescue Service from the train accident of Eschede

Jörg Schallhorn, Hannover

13:30 – 14:00

Problems related to indemnifications for traffic- and/or catastrophe events.

Working steps, deployment of paramedics

Viktor Popov, Ekaterinenburg

Lunchbreak

Stand:

I. Russisch-Deutsches Symposium Notfall- und Katastrophenmedizin

20. und 21. Mai 2010

St. Petersburg, Russland

Version 2.0/23.04.2010

3. Working session: Emergency concepts to handle heavy train accidents

Moderation: Heino Peters

14.30 – 15:00 Evacuation and medical care of patients on the occasion of a blaze/burning in a major city

E. Kamkin, Perm

15:00 – 15:30 Psychological attendance for injured individuals after a train catastrophe

N. Evimow

12:00 – 13:00

Lunchbreak

4. Working session: Experts discussion

Moderation: Heinzpeter Moecke

13:00 – 16:00 Outlook and possibilities for a future cooperation, planning of further symposia and conjoint and final declaration

Closing words

Bagnenko, Ulrichs, Radtke

17:00

End of the Symposium

Protocol:

Julia Izotova, Healthcare Authority St. Petersburg

Reinhard Hollunder, Hamburg Health Consultants, Hamburg

Coordination/
Contact:

Gerd U. Radtke, NMC New Medical Concepts, Hamburg
(Telefon: +7 921 767 1492)

Oksana Dmitrienko, Dzhanelidze-Institut, St. Petersburg
(Telefon: +7 921 992 8842)

Stand:

I. Russisch-Deutsches Symposium Notfall- und Katastrophenmedizin

20. und 21. Mai 2010

St. Petersburg, Russland

Version 2.0/23.04.2010

A complete documentation is in progress and will be released asap.

The "2. German-Russian Emergency and Catastrophe Symposium" will take place as follows:

Venue: Hamburg, Germany (Nov. 24-26)
 Berlin, Germany (Nov. 26-28)

Date: November 24 – 28.2010

For information please contact info@telmedreview.eu

Stand: